以下為第 41-44 題

Electronic devices(裝置) help us in many ways, but they may also cause health problems. Looking at screens for too long can cause eye pain, which makes your eyes feel dry and sore. To help your eyes stay healthy, follow “20-20-20” rules: every twenty minutes, focus on something twenty feet away for twenty seconds. People who write a lot of text messages can lead to an injury called “texting thumb.” The repeated motion of typing with your thumbs can cause thumb and wrist pain.

Scientific research suggests that electronic devices can also hurt your mind: One of the biggest problems is that using them can affect your sleep. Doctors say the light-emitting(發光) screens stop you from feeling sleepy. Therefore, they advise people not to use electronic devices for at least one hour before sleeping. Another danger is Internet addiction (網路成癮). Many people turn to the Internet to ease feelings of stress, sadness, and loneliness. Over time, they might start to depend on the Internet and feel worried if they’re not connected. To stop yourself from falling into this kind of trap, limit the amount of time you spend online.

To use your smartphone or computer safely, just make sure you follow these health tips. Also, remember that there is more to life than looking at an electronic screen.

41. What is not part of the “20-20-20” rule?

42. According to the article, why do many people turn to the Internet?

- (A) To keep up to date on news in the world.
(B) To chat with their friends online.
(C) To feel less stressed and less sad.
(D) To easily look up the information.

43. What is the best title for the article?

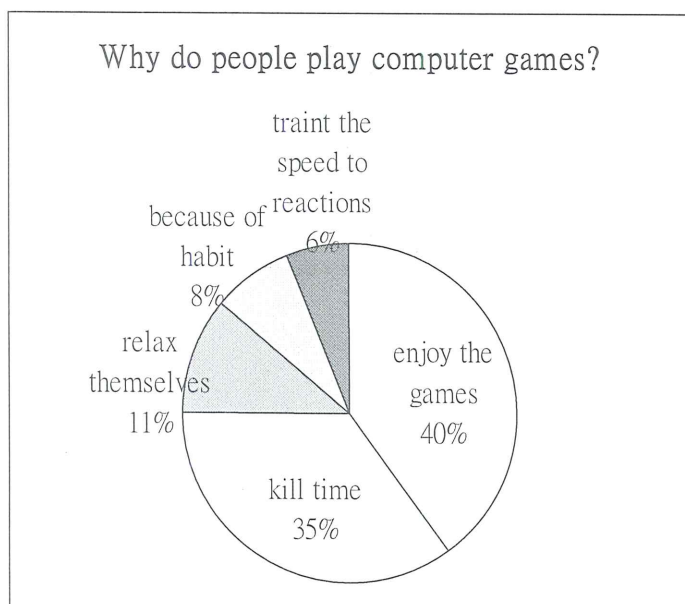

- (A) The Advantages of Modern Technology
(B) How to Protect Your Eyes, Thumbs and Wrists
(C) Exercise Helps You Avoid Harm from Using Electronic Devices
(D) Health problems Caused by Overusing Electronic Devices

44. Which of the following is NOT correct according to the article?

- (A) Typing too much can cause your wrist pain.
(B) Looking at screens if possible can help you focus.
(C) Electronic devices can hurt your body and mind.
(D) You had better not use electronic devices before going to bed.
